Fish Passage Improvements at Foster Park

Project of the Year

City of Thousand Oaks

La Granada Pump Station

Professional of the Year

Masoud Razavi, PE

SPEAKER:

Representatives from the City of Ventura

TOPIC:

The fish passage projects are being completed to improve low-flow passage opportunities for Southern California steelhead and other aquatic species in the mainstem of the Ventura River, which is designated critical habitat for steelhead.

Phase one of the fish passage improvements consisted of notching the existing sub-surface dam at Foster Park, which became exposed in the Ventura River channel during previous large storm events in the 2005/2006 wet season.

SPEAKER:

Representatives from the City of Thousand Oaks

TOPIC:

TO provide a secondary water source to two of the City's pressure zones the City identified the need for a new pump station through their Water Master Plan. Initial studies were completed and a new pump station was proposed at the La Granada Reservoir site. The project included 3 pumps (two 750 gpm and one 4,000gpm), a standby generator, discharge pipelines, new water mains, roadway reconstruction, and SCADA integration.
